In 2015, C!Print Madrid gets all dressed up

C!Print Madrid adopts a new and modern visual identity embracing the trends in the visual communication industry

C!Print Madrid is renewing its visual identity for the second edition, which takes place on the 6th, 7th and 8th of 2015 at Casa de Campo – Pabellón de Cristal.

This modern look follows the market trends of 2015 and strives to seduce architects, graphic designers and communication agencies; all this without forgetting large and small format printers in addition to those in the personalisation sector. It is a transversal and educative approach to the visual communication industry thanks to a variety of workshops, round tables and conferences.

C!Print Madrid: the leading event in the image, personalisation and digital sectors awaits you with even more innovations and demonstrations!
